

Argosy University/Phoenix is seeking exceptional applicants for our APA-accredited Clinical Psychology doctoral (Psy.D.) program. Successful candidates will join a large, diverse, and cohesive faculty of outstanding practitioner-scholars. Applicants must have commitment to graduate instruction, training effective clinicians, supervision of student research, academic advisement, and involvement in professional and scholarly activity. Area of specialty remains open, but interested in faculty with backgrounds in the areas of psychological assessment, neuropsychology, and child and family.

Argosy University/Phoenix is also seeking applicants for our APA-accredited clinical psychology program (Psy.D.) who are generalists with a background in experimental psychology, cognitive psychology, or social psychology and whose research and clinical interests complement the program's practitioner-scholar training model. Experience with qualitative methods would also be desirable. The successful candidate will have the following qualifications: a doctoral degree in psychology with either a major or a formal minor in the above listed background areas, strong commitment to the practitioner-scholar model in the context of multicultural competence, teaching experience, evidence of productive scholarship, and ability to supervise dissertation research.

All candidates must hold a doctoral degree in psychology from an APA-accredited program and be licensed or license-eligible in AZ. We offer a competitive salary and benefits. To apply, submit letter of intent, curriculum vitae, and a list of three professional references to:

Tommy Comer, Human Resources
Argosy University/Phoenix,
2233 West Dunlap Avenue, 4th Floor
Phoenix, AZ 85021
tcomer@argosy.edu

Position starts at the Assistant Level. 24 credit load requirement (8 courses) for the Academic Year (Sept-Aug).

The anticipated start date for each position is January 2010. It is the policy of the Argosy University to provide equal educational and employment opportunities to all individuals without regard to race, color, gender, religion, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or national origin. Minority applicants are strongly encouraged to apply. Education Management embraces diversity as a critical step in ensuring employee, student and graduate success. We are committed to building and developing a diverse environment where a variety of ideas, cultures, and perspectives can thrive.