

Post-Doctoral Fellowship, Argosy University, Seattle

Argosy University, Seattle Psychology Center has an opening starting July 1, 2010 for a post-doctoral fellow in clinical psychology. The fellow will receive intensive experience in psychological assessment, psychotherapy, supervision, and mental health administration. Additional supervised experiences in classroom teaching are another expectation and a unique aspect of this post-doctoral fellowship. The fellow will be expected to maintain a clinical caseload consisting of psychological assessments and psychotherapy, as well as manage the day to day operations of the Psychology Center. The fellow will also receive training in supervision of graduate students and in classroom teaching. This is a full time, 2 year position with competitive salary and full benefits package. Candidates who have completed their doctoral degrees in clinical or counseling psychology prior to July 1, 2010 are strongly preferred. To apply, please email your CV, transcript, and letter of interest to the Center Director, Douglas Whiteside, PhD, ABPP, at dwhiteside@argosy.edu. Please also arrange to have 3 letter of recommendations forwarded to Dr. Whiteside. Mail applications will also be accepted at:
